

BUDGET OF NEWS FROM STATE CAPITAL

Electors to Meet Monday And Certify Election Returns

News Bureau of the Journal-Miner, Room 203, N. B. A. Bldg.

PHOENIX, Jan. 9.—In Superior Court this morning Judge Phillips issued an order requiring State Auditor Callaghan to make answer on or before the 20th day of January, in the now famous State Automobile Mandamus suit.

On Monday, January 13th, the presidential electors will meet in the Supreme Court Chamber and certify the Arizona election returns. That same night W. T. Webb, one of the electors will leave for Washington, D. C., with a copy of the certificate.

Governor Hunt today recognized a request from the Governor of Nevada for the extradition of Riley Woten, an escaped convict from the Nevada State's prison at Carson. Woten is now in the custody of officers at Kingman, Arizona, and J. P. Donnelley, Captain of the Nevada mounted police, will take the prisoner back to prison. Donnelley, by the way, figured prominently in newspaper stories some few months ago as the man who exterminated the "Shoshone Mike" gang which operated in Nevada.

State Treasurer David Johnson today received his first blanks from clerks of the various county's Superior Courts required to be filed under the State Inheritance Tax law enacted by the last legislature. Under the law notice must be given the State Treasurer of the probate of the estate of the value of over $500. The first estate proceedings reported was from Maricopa County and was concerning the estate of Tom Cavanaugh, a well known pioneer. Just the amount of the inheritance tax this estate will have to pay to the state is not known for the reason that the appraisal has as yet not been made.

Governor Hunt today named Gus Becker of Springerville a delegate to the Federal Aid Convention of the American Auto Association which is to be held in Washington beginning March 6th. Other delegates to the convention are G. P. Bullard, Attorney General, Del Potter, a good roads enthusiast, and Lamar Cobb, State Engineer.

Chief Justice, Alfred Franklin, of the Arizona Supreme Court, is ill at his home in this city. The attending physician denies that the illness is serious.

HE RECOMMENDS MANY MEASURES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 9.—"Unless progressive legislation is enacted, the people, some day, will open up the cul-de-sac even though the opening may lead representative government over a precipice into pure socialism or paternalism," said Governor Marshall in his message to the Indiana legislature today.

"Representative government does not mean that present-day conditions cannot be remedied. Upon the contrary, progressive legislation may be enacted with no disturbance to the checks and balances of our system of government."

Governor Marshall suggests among other things that a Panama-Pacific exposition commission with women representation thereon be appointed. He recommends the enactment of an inheritance tax law.

Legislation to prohibit stock watering and to protect the unwary against investing their money in that which is not property but mere promise, in those schemes which are ordinarily known to the business world as "blue sky."

Immediate enactment of a workman's compulsory compensation act. Anti-loan shark legislation.

That trust companies be treated the same as banks and that people be protected against panics.

Stringent housing laws. Establishment of a state penal farm for male prisoners.

Strengthening of laws against sale and use of cocaine and opium.

Revocation of liquor licenses upon third conviction of their holders.

Ratification of proposed amendment for popular election of senators.

INCREASED POWER FOR CLIMAX MINE

(From Saturday's Daily.) Arrivals yesterday from the Commercial camp in Copper Basin report the two large boilers as having steam up, and the new cage in operation at the main working shaft. The cross-cut west will be extended, and the further accumulation of water in large volume will be handled by the increased power installed.

Development goes ahead without interruption from the Garbino hill zone, where drifting south from the winze continues to give shipping ore and where mineralogical determinations are attractive for the making of a heavy producer. Shipping to Skull Valley is maintained at over a carload per day, and the general outlook for the property to maintain its high rating as a copper producer was never so flattering.

LYNX CREEK IS AN ACTIVE DISTRICT

(From Saturday's Daily.) John Harlan is in the city from his Snow Flake mines in Lynx Creek district, where he has resumed development. He gives a good report of the showing made, and states that there was a general movement toward performing annual assessment work that had never before prevailed among individual owners throughout that gold belt. Many mines are showing up attractively, and shipping to Humboldt will follow in the near future.

MINOR JUSTIFIED IN SHOOTING MEXICAN

(From Thursday's Daily.) After three days of an examination into the shooting of a Mexican at P. & E. Junction Christmas night by J. H. Minor, section foreman of the S. F. P. & P. railway, Judge Chas. H. McLane, exonerated the accused, and he was given his freedom.

There were over a dozen witnesses present at the time, among whom were several white women and the wives of Mexican employees. All testified that their lives were threatened by the Mexican, who was armed with a large knife, and was in an ugly mood. Several appealed to Mr. Minor to protect them, and the latter secured his Winchester and shot the man down. It is the general belief of those at the station that had not Mr. Minor acted promptly and with determination, there was the possibility of serious trouble occurring in which some of the men or women would have been the victims of the wrath of the man shot.

The dismissal of the case was authorized by County Attorney O'Sullivan and his associate, J. H. Morgan.

The wounded Mexican is recovering at the county hospital, although the soft nosed bullet passed into his body at the side of his back, and striking a bone split making two ugly wounds at the exit in front of his body.

PLIGHT TROTH AT BEGINNING OF NEW YEAR

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hawke on South Montezuma street a very pretty and popular wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon when their charming daughter, Miss Myrtle Hawke was united to H. Barnett, Judge Chas. H. McLane officiating. The ring ceremony was used. The event attracted a large number of friends of the happy couple, and after the knot was tied, a splendid repast was served the guests by the parents of the bride. Mrs. Barnett is very much endeared to many friends, and her husband is well known in Jerome as a frugal and industrious man. They will make that city their future home, and are followed on their journey through life by the felicitations of a host of friends.

Unadvertised things are sold—sometimes. Journal-Miner wants ads will sell them quickly.

SHATTERED MIND AND BODY YIELD TO DISEASE

(From Saturday's Daily.) After only one day's illness at the county hospital, Charles F. Schaffer succumbed yesterday afternoon. In addition to his mental faculties being deranged, his physical ills assumed that gravity Thursday that it was deemed advisable to remove him from the county jail, for treatment, but his shattered frame failed to respond and death came as a relief to his earthly cares.

Among his effects was found a letter from his aged mother at Hartford, Kansas, where a daughter and son, with his sister, also reside. The deceased had been a resident of this county for about four years, and was well known at Mayer. He bore a good name, but through adversity his mental faculties were deranged, and later commenced the physical decline that resulted in his passing away. The body is at Ruffner's awaiting advices from relatives.

WICKENBURG IS COVERED WITH SNOW

(From Saturday's Daily.) Arrivals from the southern part of the state yesterday reported that Wickenburg was experiencing the novelty of being snowed under, three inches of the "beautiful" being recorded at eight o'clock in the morning. Flakes also fell as far south as Hot Springs Junction, while rain prevailed in Phoenix. Rangenemen were pleased at the coming of moisture, and with warm weather fine grazing will be available.

NEEDS NOT PAY BIG BILL FOR SUPPLIES

(From Thursday's Daily.) Judge F. O. Smith yesterday handed down his decision in the celebrated case of T. W. Otis vs. The Ohio Mines Company. Involved was the collection of an account running for many years. The defendant company was awarded a verdict.

Judge Smith in his decision says: "It appeared from the evidence that T. W. Otis had furnished certain supplies to John S. Jones, as an individual, while he was operating mines in the Chaparral district before the creation of the Jessie Mines Company. After the organization of the Jessie Mines Company, according to the evidence, Jones caused a resolution of the board of directors to be passed by the directors of the company, assuming the indebtedness of about $5,000, due from Jones to Otis. A few years ago the Ohio Mines Company succeeded the Jessie Mines Company, and took over the Jessie holdings. They agreed to pay only the legitimate debts of the Jessie, and when the suit was instituted by Otis they defended the same on the ground that the Jessie Company did not owe the debt incurred, and that the note had been procured by fraud and was void." John H. Price, the attorney of Cleveland, Ohio, represented the Ohio Mines Company.

TEN CLAIMS IN CHERRY CREEK ARE SOLD

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Arthur W. Cobb, of Indianapolis, Indiana, has sold to the Diadem Mining Company, a new incorporation, a group of ten mining claims situated in Cherry Creek district, the deed being filed for record yesterday for a nominal consideration. The sale is an important one, the forerunner of active operations being contemplated. Mr. Cobb is a member of the Diadem Company, of which there are only three principal stockholders, all residing in the above city. Active development is to begin on the group within the next sixty days, it is reported.

BUYING MEAT.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Ed Hadstate, meat merchant of Williams, is in the city and will stock up his market with goat meat, following the adage that variety is the spice of life. He leaves today for the Mayer country to make purchases of that article of food.

BUYS INTEREST IN CATTLE BUSINESS

(From Friday's Daily.) Levi Young and George Day of Phoenix, yesterday concluded negotiations with J. H. Maders for the purchase of one-half interest in the latter's range cattle and horses in the Mingo Mountain section of the Black Hills, the transaction involving $2,500. The same buyers last week bought 500 head of cattle from other parties in the Dewey country, and stated they would close other deals in the next two weeks. Mr. Young is heavily identified with the sheep raising industry of the county, and is transferring his flocks to a lower elevation for the winter. He is utilizing the Mingo mountain country for ranging his increasing herds of cattle. He is optimistic over the future outlook of the cattle business, but reticent as to the sheep end of the range business.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Woodrow Wilson's visit to Chicago tomorrow, Sunday, will be quiet. He will be the guest at the home of David B. Jones and outside of dinner at the Commercial Club, will accept no invitations. Special preparations have been made for his protection.

GENERAL REVIVAL OF MINING IN CHERRY

L. N. Wombacher, operating mines in Cherry Creek district, while in the city Friday stated that there is a general revival of mining throughout that section, and the indications point to the liveliest year ever known.

The old Majestic is being revived by M. M. Green, of Chicago, and this operator is also preparing to start up the Etta and other properties which he acquired during his recent trip.

Mr. Wombacher continues development on his individual interests and gives a good report of the showing made. He also stated that the close of the year experienced a general movement among title workers to get the work done on time. He anticipates a year of production and good returns.

LEAD AND SILVER VALUES HIGH IN ORE

(From Friday's Daily.)

M. Roland, owner of Little Boy mine on Minnehaha Flat, brought to the city Wednesday samples taken from a recent discovery made in the winze forty feet in depth, which runs high in percentage of lead carried, and averages over 100 ounces in silver.

He reports the pay streak as two and one-half feet wide, and there is not an ounce of waste in evidence, the vein widening with depth in the grade of the ore increasing in value also. The winze was started from an old tunnel of 300 feet in length, and the strike is regarded as the most important ever made on the property. Mr. Roland also shows samples which carry horn silver, which only adds to the interest of the future rating of his holdings. He will continue development and feels elated over the outlook. He is located south of and near the old Button camp.

Journal-Miner—High class job work

EHRENBERG IS A LIVELY PLACE RIGHT NOW

(From Saturday's Daily.) H. E. Barmin, placer and quartz mining on the desert, east of Ehrenberg, is in the city to meet his brother and the latter's wife who are expected from Littlefield Kansas, to remain for the winter. Mrs. Barmin being in poor health. More miners are flocking into that section than ever before known, while the area of placer ground being worked is less than usual, with only fair returns given. Several new quartz mines are being located, and as a rule the new arrivals are well equipped with camp facilities.

REDUCTION WORKS DAMAGED BY THE COLD

(From Friday's Daily.)

During the cold weather of the week, the new concentrating plant of the Humboldt Consolidated Smelting Company suffered considerable damage by frozen pipes, and as a result this ore treating adjunct of the big plant will not be started up for several days, or until the damage is remedied. The building is located some distance from the smelter, and was exposed for the three days of the extremely cold weather. A large tonnage of ore had accumulated for the initial starting up of this plant, which was expected to begin operations this week. Inside of the next ten days it is believed the leaks will be repaired and the big reduction works started up on a permanent basis, with one shift employed for the present.

ALBANY, Jan. 1p.—The engineer had been drinking the night before and loss of sleep caused the wreck on the Lackawanna Road at Corning July 4th, in which forty were killed and seventy-five injured, according to the report of the State Public Service Commission. Engineer Schroeder was indicted for manslaughter but later the indictment was dismissed.

Attractive Job Printing Will Bring Attractive Orders

See that the printed matter that goes out of your office is attractively printed. A shabby letterhead or booklet is a poor introduction to a prospective customer.
